Suncor Stainless Warehouse

A Complete Overhaul of our Warehouse

Here at Suncor Stainless, we've made big changes to our warehouse to improve accuracy and speed. Over the last year we completely reorganized our warehouse and invested in a new logistics system called Total Warehouse Logistics. This system improves accuracy and increases productivity by utilizing handheld equipment featuring "real time" updates to our system. Every product is now bar coded and scanned as it's packed to fulfill orders. This allows for accuracy on packing products and updated inventory levels. This latest step to ensure orders go out correct and on time is a reflection of our commitment to our customers.
